Know where you stand before the final, not after it

Fill a row in each time something is graded. The weighted column is what actually matters: a 95 on something worth 5 per cent moves your grade less than a 70 on something worth 30. Keep this current and the final-grade calculator becomes a confirmation rather than a shock.

Assessment	Weight %	Your score %	Weighted (weight x score / 100)

Worked example

A quiz worth 10 per cent scored at 88, a midterm worth 25 scored at 72, and an essay worth 15 scored at 91. That is 50 per cent of the course graded, and a standing of 80.9 per cent on the work done so far. The remaining 50 per cent is what is still in play.

How to read the total

- Add the Weight column. That is how much of the course has been graded so far.
- Add the Weighted column. That is how many percentage points you have banked.
- Your current standing is the banked points divided by the weight graded, times 100.
- What is left is 100 minus the weight graded. That is what the final can still move.
